Defense in Case Against G. E. Wallace Indicates Effort to Prove Irregularities

FORMER MANAGERS COMING.

R. B. Blakemore and John E. Adams, both former managers of the Home Building association, will testify in the suit against George E. Wallace in district court in which the prices charged home builders for houses built by the state association is being attacked. It was announced in court today by George Shafer, assistant attorney general, representing the association. W. A. Anderson, former secretary of the Industrial Commission, came here from Minneapolis to testify. The dealings of the Home building association, already subjected to scrutiny through various audits, will be gone over in the suit, which will continue through tomorrow.

Glaring irregularities in prices paid by the Home Building association for materials used, excessive prices paid in some instances, and indications that the defense would endeavor to prove that thousands of dollars of material purported to have been purchased, never went into the homes marked the trial today of the Home Building association against George E. Wallace, former tax commissioner. The association is suing Wallace for the balance due on the price of his home as fixed by the Home Building association, the price being over $11,000. Wallace claims the price agreed on was $5,300 with a further provision that "profits should not run the cost beyond $6,000."

M. W. Thatcher, who headed the Equitable Audit Company which made examinations of the Home Building association, read from a report showing large variations in the prices purported to have been paid for materials. Some of these variations were: Variation of $21 a thousand in leveling in four months; $9.25 in shingles in a few days; $9.25 in shingles in 30 days; $14 on common boards in four months.

Thatcher, from a report of one of his auditors, Thatcher told Judge Tugli, hearing the case, that the Home Building association paid $310 a thousand feet for quarter-sawn oak flooring to a Wisconsin firm which, the auditor said from his personal knowledge, did not have the machinery for making this grade of lumber. The opinion was expressed that it was a grade which should have sold for about $225 a thousand and was charged at the rate of $310 a thousand.

Variations in Price. The variations in price were far greater than they should have been and entirely out of keeping with the trend of the market, Thatcher testified. The Home Building association, which claimed to be saving home builders great sums of money by low sales prices, actually was selling material at a loss, he said, quoting from the report of his employees who said that the selling price was in instances virtually the wholesale price with no allowance made for expenses, loss, and similar items of cost.

Attorney Langer, for Mr. Wallace, endeavored to show that all of the material purchased by the Home Building association did not go into the houses. Thatcher said that he thought it probable that through theft of material and loss this was true, but was unwilling to say from his knowledge that this was true. Attorney Langer indicated witnesses would be produced later to testify upon this point.

Much of the testimony of Thatcher, who was on the witness stand yesterday afternoon, went to the method by which he distributed $149,000 to about 50 of the houses built by the association. Thatcher said that because the records of the Home Building association were in such a jumble he and employees visited each house, made an estimate of the amount of material used, questioned the persons for whom the houses were built and examined the houses.

Method of Computing. After the investigation was completed and the materials checked the auditors found $149,000 had been expended which could not be accounted for. This amount, Thatcher said, was distributed to the costs of the various houses on a pro rata basis. Five were not charged with the extra amount, he testified, these being a barn and house in Underwood, the William house in Bismarck and the William Louke and Freckley houses in Fargo. RUSSIANS PUT FORWARD NEW PLAN ON DEBT

Suggest at Hague Commission that Individual Negotiations Be Undertaken

NON-RUSSIANS MEET

(By the Associated Press) The Hague, July 19.—The delegates of the powers agreed to assemble at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon to consider the Russian proposal that settlement for debts and compensation for confiscated foreign property be left to direct negotiations between the Russians themselves and the foreign bond holders and property holders.

PROPOSAL APPROVED. The Hague, July 19.—The non-Russian commission of the conference here this afternoon approved the proposal made by Maxim Litvinoff in connection with the debt and property compensation questions. Resolutions were adopted stating that this action on the part of the Russians would create a favorable atmosphere for further negotiations.

(By the Associated Press) The Hague, July 19.—Now proposals in connection with compensation for confiscated property and payment of the Russian debt were advanced by the Russian delegation at a meeting today with the entire non-Russian commission on the conference on Russian affairs here.

The Russians suggested an arrangement by which Russia would undertake to negotiate directly with foreigners for the payment of compensation for confiscated property and bond holders for settlement of the Russian debt. The Russians proposed that all the delegations, including the Russian, submit this project to their respective governments, and await an answer for one week at The Hague. The Russians for the time being dropped the question of credits as they said the non-Russians had declined credits. It was announced that the non-Russian representatives said they would agree to make arrangements with foreign claimants within two years.

RUSS LOOK TO CROPS

(By the Associated Press) Moscow, July 19.—The Russian government now is more interested in the harvest of Russia than in any help from the western world, it was said since the developments at The Hague. If the grain crop should come up to expectations many of the leading government officials advance the theory it will be best for Russia to struggle on alone, or only with the assistance of the individual foreigners who are willing to take a chance on the Soviets own terms. The Communists are openly boastful that if the food after the harvest is as plentiful as now is promised Russia whose chief thought is food, will be in such immeasurably better shape than during the past three years it will be slowly able to reconstruct itself, notwithstanding the industrial break down.

MILLION ASK AMNESTY GRANT

Washington, July 19.—Approximately a million signatures were said to be attached to the petition asking a grant of amnesty to the remaining 87 "war opinion" prisoners, which will be brought here by a delegation today for presentation to President Harding. The petition was circulated by the general defense committee of Chicago. Members of the delegation included Morris Hillquit of New York and Mrs. Robert LaFollette, wife of the senator from Wisconsin.

SALE OF BEER, WINES, FAVORED IN LABOR BODY

Minnesota State Federation Adopts Recommendation After Compromise

ONE LEADER OPPOSES

Vice President of Federation Speaks in Opposition to Recommendation

Crookston, Minn., July 19.—Recommendation for the sale of light wine and beers in the United States under governmental control was contained in a resolution adopted today by the fortieth annual convention of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor here.

Duluth was chosen as the meeting place of the 1923 convention, after Belvidere, another contestant, had thrown its solid vote in favor of that city as against Faribault, the third entry. The deciding ballot gave Duluth 100 votes and Faribault, 85.

Other resolutions adopted by the convention which will adjourn late today, called for:

Recognition of the Soviet government of Russia and the Mexican government by the United States.

Repeal of the transportation act and the abolition of the railroad labor board.

Amnesty for political prisoners and opposition to the manufacture of war materials.

Motion to Table, Lost. A motion to table the resolution favoring a trade agreement with Russia by the United States to permit workers to participate in the manufacturing of goods needed by Russia, was voted down and a chorus of hearty "ayes" sent the resolution through.

A resolution offered by Thomas Van Lear of Minneapolis and William H. Mahoney of St. Paul, recognized labor leaders in their respective cities, charged the financial interests with supporting the open shop drive against the unions and recommended the establishment of farmer-labor co-operative banks.

Another important resolution adopted declared the United States supreme court had usurped the powers of congress by declaring unconstitutional laws that had been passed by the representatives of the people and it urged amendment of the federal constitution curbing such powers.

This resolution, palpably drawn on the lines of the address by Senator R. M. LaFollette before the national labor convention at Cincinnati urged that each local union set aside one meeting for discussion of the resolution and take individual action on it.

War Referendum. A resolution calling for a referendum vote before the United States could declare war was adopted after it had been amended to include a vote by the people on conscription for war.

Other resolutions adopted included recommendations for relief by local unions for starving Russia; support (Continued on Page 3)

BOARD AGREES TO RE-HEARING ON RAIL WAGES

Concession Made to Unions Does Not Bind Board to Change of Its Decisions

WAGE MATTER REMOVED

(By the Associated Press) Chicago, July 19.—The railway labor peace parleys assumed new and more important proportions today, with possibility of the walkout of 400,000 maintenance of way men virtually removed by the action of the railroad labor board in indicating it would grant new hearings on the wage question.

It was pointed out the board's action in promising re-hearings, committing the board to nothing it had not already indicated might reasonably be expected under the transportation act and that although definite assurance of re-hearings was generally received as a concession to the union men, this was not to be interpreted as weakening the stand the board has taken from the outset.

Senator Cummins' announcement he would hold hearings on the transportation act, to ascertain how the law may be amended so that the living wage principle would be made clear was received as decidedly favorable to peace, both by rail heads and strike leaders.

Regarding this as one of the most important concessions yet offered the unions, strike leaders pointed out that a clear definition of what constitutes a living wage seemed in prospect.

Wage Question Eliminated. With the wage question thus eliminated from the dispute, only certain rules affecting overtime pay of the shovellers, and the question of restoration of seniority right to men now on strike were left as the important matters to come before the commission.

The railroad labor board was expected to give immediate attention to the petition of maintenance of way men on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway for a revision of wage scales, the company having waived its right to a thirty day notice.

E. F. Grable, president of the maintenance brotherhood was in Detroit preparing for the meeting of the brotherhood Friday. Before leaving Chicago Mr. Grable expressed belief a walkout of his men could be averted.

Only isolated instances of disorders marked the strike yesterday. A non-union employee of the Texas and Pacific railroad was kidnapped at Shreveport, Louisiana by ten men. An Atlantic coast line engineer was shot and killed by a guard.

Fresh Troops Sent. Fresh troops were sent from Chicago to relieve those on duty at Bloomington, Ill. Mayor Weaver of Bloomington, in a message to Governor Neff asked that a company of Rangers be sent to Denison. Three alleged strike sympathizers were arrested at Taylor, Texas, on contempt charges. At Muskogee, Okla., all available police reserves were called out to quell two disturbances.

HOOVER PLANS TO TAKE CARE OF NORTHWEST

St. Paul, Minn., July 19.—The northwest will be well taken care of on coal shipments under a plan worked out by Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, as soon as coal mining is re-established by the government, Ivan Bowen, railroad and warehouse commissioner declared today.

Commissioner Bowen returned from Washington yesterday, where he conferred with the northwestern representatives, Mr. Hoover and other officials over the fuel supply.

"Mr. Hoover understands the situation here in the northwest thoroughly," Mr. Bowen said, "and I am confident the plan of distribution which he has worked out will guarantee this section an adequate supply of coal. Mr. Hoover feels that our entire supply can be had at the head of the lakes by the close of the shipping season."

Airplane Used to Rid Fruit Trees of Caterpillars

London, July 19.—A farmer in Kent with a 50-acre orchard has solved in a new way the problem of ridding his fruit trees of a plague of caterpillars.

He engaged a flying machine and loaded it up with half a ton of insecticides. The machine flew to and fro over the trees at a height of from 15 to 30 yards, scattering the poisonous powder. In half an hour the job was done and it proved quicker and cheaper and much more effective than spraying the trees from the ground.

NESTOS URGES MINE OPERATIONS BE RESUMED IN NORTH DAKOTA AND PROMISES PROTECTION TO MINES

Says But One Mine Is Affected, in Issuing Statement "Seconding" President's Invitation to Mine Operators to Open Up Mines Again.—Law and Order Will Be Maintained in North Dakota If Mines Are Reopened, Governor Says

While feeling that the coal strike problem in North Dakota was not serious, because but one mine was affected, Governor R. A. Nestos, after reading the president's telegram, returned to his office here today and gave out a statement in support of President Harding's policy.

"The North Dakota Administration second the invitation expressed by President Harding to the mine operators to return to their mines and resume activities so far as this is applicable to North Dakota," declared the governor. "As I understand it, it applies to but one mine in this state, and I am sure that in case of that mine, mining operations will be resumed immediately, and every effort made by the operators of the mine to produce coal to the utmost capacity, so that they do their share to avert the danger of a coal shortage in the northwest during the coming winter."

"There will go with this invitation a guarantee of course, an assurance that order will be maintained, the laws of the state upheld, and adequate protection given all lawful enterprise and activities."

"I do not believe that we will have any serious labor troubles in this state, or any disorder similar to that which—other states may experience. Our law-abiding citizens, men who not only insist upon their own constitutional rights, but who are willing to respect the rights of others. In dealing with men who will give to these problems thoughtful consideration on this basis, there is going to be no difficulty in securing an adjustment and in insuring the operation of our mines to their full productive capacity."

"The people of our state also have certain rights in this matter, which must not be jeopardized by any disputes between capital and labor as long as fair opportunity for a lawful and proper adjustment of their differences has been provided and made available to both sides."

The mine referred to, it is understood, is the Washburn Lignite Coal Co., Wilton. Directors of that company are expected to determine its policy this week.

LENINE RUMOR IS 'CONFIRMED'

(By the Associated Press) Stockholm, July 19.—Notwithstanding the denial issued by the Soviet embassy at Riga yesterday of the statement made by the Riga correspondent of the Svenska Dagbladet that he had been reliably informed Premier Lenin of Soviet Russia today telegraphed his newspaper here from Riga that he had obtained confirmation of his statement.

Cyanide of potassium was used, the correspondent affirms.

CITY PLACED ON AIR ROUTE

Pathfinder's Car May Take Northern Route

Bismarck is on the federal air mail service northern trans-continental route, the Commercial club has been advised. The route in operation at the present time after leaving Chicago passed through Iowa, Nebraska, Wyoming, Utah, Nevada into California. The suggested northern route is: New York, Chicago, Madison, Wis.; St. Paul, Crookston, Minn.; Bismarck; Miles City, Livingston, Spokane and Seattle, thence down the coast. It is possible that during the summer the pathfinder's car will take the northern route.

The Commercial club, it is announced, will sponsor a Burlington county farm tour on Labor Day.

GENERAL LEVEL OF PRICES UP

Washington, July 19.—Further increase in the general level of wholesale prices for June as compared with May is shown by information gathered by the department of labor statistics in representative markets of the country. This increase, it was said, measures 1-1 1/2 per cent which compares with an increase of 3-1/2 from April to May.

The largest price gains were reported for fuel and building materials in each of which groups the June level was over four per cent higher than that of May. Food articles average nearly 1-1/2 per cent higher and clothes and clothing over 2-1/4 per cent higher.

Of 404 commodities, for which comparable data for May and June were obtained, increases were said to have been found to have occurred for 132 commodities, and decreased for 160 commodities. In the case of 160 commodities no change in average prices was reported.

MEX. POLICY IS ASSAILED

(By the Associated Press) Washington, July 19.—The administration's policy toward Mexico was described as "wholly imperialistic" today in the senate by Senator Ladd, Republican, North Dakota, who urged "prompt and unequivocal" recognition of the present Mexican government. Mr. Ladd predicted that unless such steps were taken by the administration, "a real progressive party would come into power and establish a new foreign policy."

TURNER NOMINATED. (By the Associated Press) Washington, July 19.—Robert E. Patterson of Minnesota was nominated today by President Harding to be registrar of the Duluth, Minnesota, land office and Claude C. Turner of North Dakota was nominated to be land office registrar at Dickinson, North Dakota.

GOVERNORS OF STATES PLEDGE HARDING HELP

Will Back President's Injunction that Mines Be Opened with Troop Protection

OPINION IS DIVIDED

Officials Believe Production Will Increase—Gompers Says It Will Be Failure

(By the Associated Press) Pittsburgh, Pa., July 19.—Coal mines in the Pittsburgh district, shut down since the strike was called April 1 last, will resume operations "to the greatest possible extent" at the scale of "wages in effect in November, 1917." This announcement was made after a meeting of the Pittsburgh Coal Producers Association here today.

(By the Associated Press) Washington, July 19.—Replies of governors of coal producing states who were called on yesterday by President Harding to cooperate with the federal government in protecting mines at which operations were resumed began today to pour into the white house. Most of the governors responding said that they would support the federal policy if any emergency should arise and outlined their plan for doing so.

Meanwhile plans went forward to put the government fully in a position to fulfill the pledge of "every assistance at its command" given by President Harding in the telegram addressed to the governors of 28 coal states yesterday in which they were called upon by the executive to give necessary protection and safeguards to men and employees willing to resume work in the industry. The failure to reach a voluntary adjustment of the present controversy, the president said, in his message, made it necessary in the name of the common people, of the operators and miners, under assurance of necessary protection, be invited to resume production.

See Supply Improving. Despite the reduced coal supply at present producing mines, resulting from the rail strike, officials were confident that some additional supply would result from the government's action. The rail situation, made some improvement today, but it was evident that the government has decided to obtain a suspension of transportation as well, and that high officials see a close relationship and inter-connection between the rail and coal situations.

Asserting that the president's message to the governors was merely a gesture which will not produce coal in any substantial quantity was made in a statement yesterday by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and similar predictions were made by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. In the government view, however, there was no certainty that the entire membership of the miners union would support their leaders, in refusing arbitration and the possibility of separate district agreements in the face of government determination to support mine operation was rumored here today.

ERIN NATIONAL ARMY VICTOR

Succeeds in Isolating Irregular Troops

(By the Associated Press) Dublin, July 19.—News reaching Dublin this morning confirms the earlier reports that heavy fighting occurred in Limerick over the weekend, the national army troops succeeding in isolating the irregulars in Strand Barracks and King John Castle. The capitulation of the insurgents is believed to be imminent.

FARMER, HIT BY TRAIN, SUCCUMBS

Dickinson, N. D., July 19.—John Arne, prominent farmer living 12 miles south of South Heart, was fatally injured when the Ford car in which he was riding was struck by the fast Northern Pacific Yellowstone Park special at South Heart station, 12 miles west of Dickinson late Monday afternoon.

Lars Arne, his brother, and J. J. Buckley, farmers of the same community who were riding with him, miraculously escaped death by jumping just before the train crashed into the car.

CONVENTION DATE FIXED

(By the Associated Press) Washington, July 19.—Dates for postal conference-conventions to be held in every state during this and 1923 were announced today when Postmaster General Work designated the cities selected for the meetings. Among the cities where conventions will be held is Bismarck, North Dakota, May 19 and Minneapolis May 17, 1923.

KAPP, GERMAN JUNKER, DIES FROM SPLINTER

Tried to Overthrow German Republican Government Two Years Ago
WAS AMERICAN BORN
Neglected Injury Caused by Wood Splinter and Cancer Developed

Stockholm, July 19.—A splinter of wood in one eye caused the death of Dr. Wolfgang Kapp, the American born German junker who tried to overthrow the German republican government about two years ago, and who died recently in Germany. Dr. Kapp, who was residing in Sweden at the time of his injury, neglected it, and when at last he consulted a specialist examination of affected optic showed that a malignant cancer had developed.

The injured eye was removed but the cancer persisted, and when Dr. Kapp returned to Germany he was instantly arrested only to be taken to the hospital where he died.

When Dr. Kapp's intended coup-d'etat failed, he secured a false passport, fled to Sweden by airplane, and won the government's permission to remain in the country on the ground that he was a political refugee. He was soon joined by his wife and daughter, and the Kapp family settled on a beautiful country estate at Halleks. Here they spent nearly two years, undisturbed by the post-war crisis in world politics.

The Kapps lived simply and unostentatiously in Halleks. Mrs. Kapp did her own housework, while Dr. Kapp attended to the outdoor duties of the household. Like his former imperial master, Dr. Kapp in his exile took up wood-sawing and splitting, and it was while he was engaged in splitting wood for the kitchen range that he met with the injury that led to his death.

During his residence at Halleks Dr. Kapp proved to be anything but the fire-eating Prussian junker he had been pictured. At one crucial point during the great war he challenged Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg to a duel, and after peace was restored he planned to crush the unstable German Socialist regime with typical Prussian ruthlessness. He actually captured Berlin, drove the Ebert government to Dresden, and ruled over the German capital for five days. Kapp was accused of being a reactionary, working for the ultimate restoration of the monarchy, but he always strongly denied this.

The Swedes of the Halleks community who had supposed Dr. Kapp to be a roaring Prussian of the most obnoxious type, found him a courteous and charming old gentleman. He was kindly, democratic and very social, frequently visiting the neighboring farms and chatting with the farmers and their workmen, among whom he became very popular. His tendency to mingle on terms of equality with all classes probably resulted from his early American training. Kapp having spent his early youth in New York City where he was born in 1862. The people who best knew Dr. Kapp in Sweden describe him as a model neighbor and a genial gentleman.

SWEDEN IS "SHIPPING"

Less Than Eight Percent of Her Shipping Idle

Stockholm, July 19.—Less than eight per cent of Swedish shipping is now idle, according to the latest report of the Swedish Shipowners' association. This report shows a sharp contrast to conditions a year ago, when in June Swedish shipping depression reached bottom mark with over 44 per cent of the country's total tonnage idle and nearly 46 per cent of the men employed laid off. The report of the Shipowners association covers only its membership, but virtually all of the country's shipping is owned by members of the association.

The recovery of Sweden in shipping is based largely on the country's approach to normal in many of its most important industries and the rapid increase in exports.

BREAD, MEAT, IN MOSCOW DROPS

Sugar and Other Staples, However, Are Rising

Moscow, July 19.—For the first time in several years prices of the two staple foodstuffs, bread and meat, have shown a slight drop in the Moscow markets. But other staples, such as sugar and butter, are rising. Simultaneously the Soviet ruble which for more than a month had stood at about 4,000,000 to the dollar, advanced in value to the ratio of 3,800,000 to the dollar.

A number of factors contributed to the drop in bread prices, among them being the open sale on the markets of the contents of American Relief Administration food packages, and the arrival in Moscow of grain from abroad.

Prices are dropping also in the famine area, and in the country they are gradually becoming lower than in Moscow.

BIRDMAN MUST QUIT BRIDE FOR HIS FLIGHT TO NORTH POLE

MRS. ELMER J. FULLERTON AND HER AVIATOR HUSBAND WHOM SHE WILL ALLOW TO RISK DEATH IN A FLIGHT ACROSS THE POLE TO FURTHER HIS CAREER.

BY PHILIP J. SINNOT

Edmonton, Alberta, July 19.—A perilous flight to the North Pole across 1,500 miles of unexplored Arctic wastes—a flight which aviators have called impossible and suicidal—will interrupt the honeymoon of Lieutenant Elmer J. Fullerton and his bride.

Fullerton is the pilot who will guide Captain Roald Amundsen's plane on the most daring aviation feat in history, a non-stop flight from Alaska to Spitzbergen over the North Pole, with death as the penalty for any miscalculation or mishap.

Avia Fullerton, the aviator's young bride, will receive a farewell letter mailed from Point Barrow, Alaska, civilization's northernmost outpost on the American continent.

Then will come silence until—The telegraph wires flash news of Fullerton's safe arrival at Spitzbergen, or until—

Wanderers from the frozen north bring back news that the expedition has failed.

"But he's going to win," insist Mrs. Fullerton, though there's a suspicion of tears in her eyes.

"My husband is a cautious flyer who takes no unnecessary chances. If the flight is humanly possible, he'll make it safely."

"Why did I consent to let him go? Because Elmer loves flying more than anything else. Because I realize with him the pioneering possibilities of such a flight."

"This flight, if successful, will establish the commercial possibilities of aircraft."

"Besides I feel this is the one big opportunity of Elmer's life as a flying pilot. If he succeeds, his future will be assured."

"I shan't worry. Elmer told me not to be troubled if I do not hear from him for a year, for he may reach Spitzbergen too late to get the boat out."

The Fullerton marriage grew out of a wartime romance. Fullerton met his bride when he was an aviation instructor at Eastbourne, England, and she was a British war nurse.

Both returned to Canada and the marriage took place at Montreal some time ago, waited preliminary examination and was bound over to the district court under $5,000 bail. Complaint was signed by J. D. Taylor, deputy county auditor and present Red Cross secretary, who replaced Iverson three months ago when national headquarters of the American Red Cross demanded the resignation of Iverson.

Pioneers of Fort Yates and Sioux county, both Indians and whites will address the first meeting of the North Dakota School Superintendents to be held at July 24th according to the announcement of a part of the program by Miss Minnie J. Nielson. It is the North Dakota History session of the annual summer meeting of the county heads of schools.

Tuesday, July 25th, will be set aside as a day for the discussion of County Superintendents reports. This session, according to Miss Nielson is preliminary to an effort to get all of the county superintendents for the year in by the date fixed by law, September 15th next. Miss Nielson also asks all of the superintendents in a letter mailed them today to jot down all of the questions they can think of to ask at this meeting. She warns them that the North Dakota harvest is going to be large and to make every effort to get in the reports as soon as possible, because between the time of the beginning of harvest and the end of the threshing season, there will be little time for the farmers who happen to be school officers to make out reports. The last year reports will be on hand for discussion at this conference.

Constantinople, July 19.—Constantinople's horde of pariah dogs have by no means been exterminated. Thousands of them, ownerless and hungry, roam the streets and constitute a menace to pedestrians. More than 450 persons are now being treated in the Pasteur Institute here for bites from these vicious animals. A new campaign for their suppression has been inaugurated, but the Turks are proverbially humane and sympathetic to all animals and hesitate to put the dogs to death. Many of the beasts are being removed to the numerous barren islands in the Sea of Marmora, where they meet death by starvation.

Mohall, N. D., July 19.—Charged with embezzlement of $3,500 funds of the Renville county chapter of the American Red Cross, Conrad Iverson, former secretary-treasurer of the organization and former vice president of a local bank that closed some time ago, waited preliminary examination and was bound over to the district court under $5,000 bail. Complaint was signed by J. D. Taylor, deputy county auditor and present Red Cross secretary, who replaced Iverson three months ago when national headquarters of the American Red Cross demanded the resignation of Iverson.

Indeed, I wish more Americans would come here on business and stay with us."

King Boris makes it a point not only to receive in audience Americans who come here, but in many cases he invites them to visit in his country home, or else to travel and hunt with him.

BRITAIN NOT PREPARED FOR AIR ATTACK

Air Minister Says There Are Only 18 Machines Flying in Regular Service

BRITONS NOT WORRIED

Just So Long as It Remains Fine for Races, They Seem Contented

London, July 19.—Britain is declared again to be in dire peril. She is described as in a dangerous state of unpreparedness against air attack. Experts contend that London could be laid in ruins from the air within 24 hours. Many facts and figures are given by various newspapers to prove it.

Britons, and Londoners especially, are told they should be so badly scared they wouldn't sleep soundly in their beds again until something was done to set matters right. But the stolid Britisher refuses to be scared for anybody or anything. He rejoices that it has temporarily stopped raining and that the last two days of the Ascot racing were gloriously fine.

But there may be serious trouble brewing for the government over the state of the country's air defenses. Major-General Seely started the trouble—as trouble is often started here by asking a question in parliament as to how the country was fixed for airplanes in case of war.

The reply of Captain Guest, the air minister, was not exactly calculated to make nervous people feel comfortable. He said that while the country in 1920 had 188 civil airplanes fit for war, it now had 88 and these were of 23 different types. This year there are only 18 machines actually flying in regular service.

The Air League of the British Empire, which aims to do for the air force what the Navy League does for the navy, saw in the turn affairs had taken a chance to do some effective propaganda work, and issued a statement of which this is the gist: The total strength of the Royal Air Force in these islands is 12 squadrons, of which a percentage are skeleton formations.

No provision has been made to ensure that civil machines and personnel shall take part in the aerial defense of the country in case of war. France has at present 120 squadrons of airplanes and will have 220 squadrons by the end of this year.

Behind this force she has at present several hundred civil machines earmarked for use in case of war. The French aircraft industry is turning out 150 machines per month.

INDIANS AND WHITES TALK EDUCATION

Both Will Address First Meeting of School Superintendents of N. D.

Pioneers of Fort Yates and Sioux county, both Indians and whites will address the first meeting of the North Dakota School Superintendents to be held at July 24th according to the announcement of a part of the program by Miss Minnie J. Nielson. It is the North Dakota History session of the annual summer meeting of the county heads of schools.

Tuesday, July 25th, will be set aside as a day for the discussion of County Superintendents reports. This session, according to Miss Nielson is preliminary to an effort to get all of the county superintendents for the year in by the date fixed by law, September 15th next. Miss Nielson also asks all of the superintendents in a letter mailed them today to jot down all of the questions they can think of to ask at this meeting. She warns them that the North Dakota harvest is going to be large and to make every effort to get in the reports as soon as possible, because between the time of the beginning of harvest and the end of the threshing season, there will be little time for the farmers who happen to be school officers to make out reports. The last year reports will be on hand for discussion at this conference.

Sofia, Bulgaria, July 19.—King Boris would be glad to have American tourists visit this country. "I have met most of the Americans who have been here since the war," said Boris to the Associated Press correspondent, "and so far as I know every one has liked our people and the scenery of our mountains. Indeed, I wish more Americans would come here on business and stay with us."

King Boris makes it a point not only to receive in audience Americans who come here, but in many cases he invites them to visit in his country home, or else to travel and hunt with him.

ARCHERY WILL GIVE YOU GRACE AND POISE—IT'S FUN, TOO

CAMPFIRE GIRL ARCHERS OF KANSAS CITY EXAMINING THE TARGET AFTER A SHOOTING CONTEST.

BY MARIAN HALE

The latest fad in women's athletics is the revival of one of the noblest old sports—archery.

Cupid, of course, holds the world's championship. Just the same, there is no good reason why he should have a monopoly of this form of amusement, or why anyone shouldn't have fun with targets less dangerous than the human heart.

That was how the Campfire Girls figured it out when they started to revive the sport. So they made it a part of their training to master the technique of the bow and arrow and now they are in demand for teaching society and business girls how to play Diana's favorite game.

At parks, country clubs and on greenwards generally, splashy looking targets are being erected and the most attractive sport tags are being exhibited to advantage. Archery clubs may become as common as those of golf and tennis.

The one great advantage of archery over every other sport is its decorativeness.

There are bound to be ungraceful moments in golf and tennis, but archery gives an opportunity always for the most graceful and beautiful of attitudes.

Not only that, but it really develops grace and symmetry more than any other form of exercise, besides affording development of arms and shoulders.

Archery is not an expensive sport. After the original outlay for the bow and arrows the worst is over.

A good bow may command any price, according to its merit. It is handsome, preferably of yew, and must balance exactly. The arrows, too, must be of perfect balance.

Regulation arrows are tipped with brass. Many society women are having their bows tipped with silver, ivory or gold. Naturally, these embellishments are expensive.

The sartorial equipment is limited only by your imagination and your wallet. Any snappy sports costume is bound to be seen to advantage. Naturally you want something that insures freedom. Practically any color looks well against green.

The strength of the bows is computed in the pounds of pull necessary to draw back the string until the arrow head touches the wood.

Ulysses, you remember, had a bow of such strength that no other man could string it. One way to keep your archery set exclusive is to develop similar strength.

MANDAN NEWS

Outline Plans to Make Country Club Part of City Park System

It is probable that the defunct Mandan Country Club will be taken over by the city park commission and turned into an important unit of the park system as a result of an agreement between the city park commission and stockholders and directors of the club.

When a formal business meeting is held in the near future the transfer will probably be completed. Fred W. McKendry has outlined the plans of the city park commission as follows:

1. The construction of a dam just west of the Flasher road bridge;

2. Thorough repair of the country club house and creation of a "hostess house" for use of citizens as well as for tourists;

3. Construction of a rustic bridge across the river from Chautauqua park to the country club building;

4. Construction of a boat house to be operated in connection with the hostess house where boats may be rented, or boats privately owned may be given leased storage room;

5. Installation of a caretaker at the hostess house, who would make his home there, and conduct a soft drink and refreshment parlor, handle boat rentals and rental of bathing suits, care for dressing rooms, etc.

6. Building of a safe and sane swimming place and bathing beach in the heart river at Chautauqua park and institution of a life guard, guide ropes and buoys.

"I believe that enough people in Mandan would be interested in such a general plan of improvement that a subscription list would find contributors in plenty to pay all the costs of repairing the country club building with furniture and fit it up as a community center," said Mr. McKendry.

"We have had an engineer survey the river seeking a site for a dam and this expert has agreed with the park commission—that the most logical place is just west of the Flasher road bridge. At this point there is a high bank on the south side of the river, while the north side is protected by the grade of the grade of the bridge itself."

During the past month the park commission has finished a beautiful winding drive through Chautauqua park, has had all the weeds cut, and cleaned up mosquito breeding places, and has placed a dozen park benches in the park and constructed tourists fire places, and other things which hold to improve our park system.

RUSSIANS AND GERMANS FORM PARTNERSHIP

According to Agreement a Syndicate Will Be Formed Between Two

Petrograd, July 19.—German private capital and the Soviet government have launched a corporation which bids fair virtually to monopolize the inland water transportation of Russia.

Simultaneously with the signing of the Russo-German treaty at Rapallo, last April, an agreement was signed by M. Karakhan, assistant commissar for foreign affairs, and M. Leskhanov, assistant commissar for foreign trade, acting on behalf of the Soviet government, with the German firm of Robert Wenckhaus, of Hamburg, granting the Germans a concession for the transportation of home and foreign goods through the Baltic Sea, the Caspian Sea, and the Mariensky Canal system, which connects the basin of the Volga with the Neva.

According to this agreement a syndicate will be formed with a capital of 200,000,000 gold marks to be taken up in equal shares by the Soviet government and German capitalists. The firm of Robert Wenckhaus undertakes to provide the tonnage needed and to arrange a loan for the Soviet government through German banks to the amount of 500,000,000 marks. Part of this money will be used for the organization of the proposed Asiatic bank for trade with Persia. The tonnage left over, after carrying out the Soviet government's program of transportation, may be used by the syndicate for trading purposes.

Her counsel planned to introduce further testimony in support of his contention that Kennedy was murdered by "two rugged strangers."

HITCHCOCK AND HOWELL NAMED IN NEBRASKA

Democratic Senator Renominated While Republican Committeemen Win

HOWELL A PROGRESSIVE

(By the Associated Press)
Omaha, Neb., July 19.—Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock and R. B. Howell, Republican national committee man were nominated at yesterday's state-wide primaries as Democratic and Republican candidates, respectively for United States senator.

Senator Hitchcock's victory was sweeping, the combined vote of his two opponents, on the face of returns from approximately one-third of the state being about half that cast for the incumbent senator.

The gubernatorial nominations were yet undecided. The leaders held their places by slender margins additional returns might at any time wipe out their advantage.

The apparent Howell victory indicates a sweep by progressives. Mr. Howell made his campaign as "a forward looking Republican" with a platform of progressive principles.

He is opposed to the proposed ship subsidy bill, sponsored by President Harding and declared he favored a government merchant marine and a farm bloc in congress. His chief opponent, Mr. Jeffries, was regarded as a conservative.

Political leaders said a victory for Mr. Howell would be bound to insert into the campaign the progressive element that has entered other races this summer in other states. The race between Dan R. Butler, Omaha, and Charles W. Bryan, brother of W. J. Bryan, for Democratic nomination for governor, showed Butler leading with slightly more than one-third of the state heard from. Political observers were inclined to the belief that Bryan had a slight edge on the prospects of the returns to come.

In the Republican race for the nomination for governor only a few hundred votes separated Charles H. Randall of Randolph and Adam McMullen of Beatrice.

house, he said, an accurate record of material going into the house had been kept.

Out of a total of approximately $180,000 of materials purchased his employees could locate but about $38,000 of the expenses from records of the association, he said. There was no inventory from which to work in distributing the cost of the houses, he said.

The witness said that the exact expense of each house as claimed by the Home Builders is probably not accurate, because of the lack of records and the fact that estimates had to be used. He said he claimed the method was accurate only as to the arithmetic involved.

Mr. Langer attempted to show that he, while attorney general and a member of the industrial commission, had been ignored by former Governor Prazier and John N. Hagan. Thatcher said he had not met Langer at any meetings.

Asked to Install System.
The witness testified that he was asked to install a bookkeeping system in May, 1920, and that because of delay in choosing forms, and a printer to print them, the construction work on houses was under way before a bookkeeping system was installed. The system was ready, he thought, in September, 1920, but was not used until later, no records being kept before November.

Langer attempted to show that the Industrial Commission was willing to lose money on the first houses constructed, in order to get houses built. Thatcher would not admit this as to the general construction but said the commission was willing to use the $100,000 appropriation from the legislature in paying administrative expenses.

"The Industrial Commission was entirely familiar with the losses but didn't worry about them, until they became serious in July, 1921," the witness said.

In pursuing the matter of waste or graft Mr. Wallace's attorney induced the statement that out of about $7,000 of material shipped to Hazen from $2,000 to $4,000 of it disappeared. A Fargo plumber, Thatcher said, had hauled back to his shop a few hundred dollars worth of plumbing materials, but that the association got credit on the amount when it was traced. The sale of lumber in Grand Forks after the construction ceased was made at a ridiculously low price apparently without effort to find a good buyer, he said.

Made Some Rare Buys.
Mr. Wallace, who was the first witness called by Assistant Attorney General Schafer, conducting the case for the Home Building association, told of his transactions.

Wallace said that R. B. Blakemore, former manager; James Baker, former superintendent of instruction; or W. A. Anderson, former secretary of the Industrial Commission, told him; they would like to have him go ahead and build a house, that the association had on hand a lot of material it couldn't use and from which it had no income; that if he would build the house he could sign a contract and the Home Building association could use it in negotiating for more funds with which to build houses. Blakemore told him they had made some rare buys of materials, he said.

ASKS EDITORS TO MAKE STAND FOR LAW, ORDER

President of National Editorial Association Delivers a Speech

(By the Associated Press)
Missoula, Mont., July 19.—A plea that editors uphold the slogan "law and order" in their various communities, was made before the opening session of the National Editorial Association's annual convention here today by J. C. Brimblecomb of Newton, Massachusetts, president of the association.

Mr. Brimblecomb placed emphasis on enforcement of the prohibition laws. "The newspapers of this country have a great opportunity to give substantial aid to the cause of law and order by refusing to publish any of the so-called jokes and sneers on the 18th amendment to the constitution of the United States," he said.

"No matter what you or I may think as individuals of the merits or demerits of prohibition, we must never forget that it is the fundamental law of the land and is entitled to as much respect as the laws against murder."

The Boston police strike in 1919 and the recent mob outbreaking at Herron, Illinois, were referred to by the speaker as examples of "how woefully thin is the shell of our civilization." He also touched on the newspaper ethics and plans for further organization.

H. Z. Mitchell, of Minnesota, discussed the problems of the country weekly referring to it as the Cinderella of journalism. He carried out the analogy by speaking of the war as the fairy godmother and the intimate, consumer as the Prince Charming.

WATERMELON CROP IN N. W. WILL BE BIG

Minot, N. D., July 19.—The watermelon crop in northwestern North Dakota is "going big" this year. That's the declaration of F. E. Neale of Van Hook, who can rightfully be termed the "melon king" of this section and possibly the state. Neale now has fifteen acres of as fine melons as you would want to see and his farm is the "island empire" of the Missouri river bottoms. It wasn't many years ago that the Neale farm was an island, but those days are gone.

How did I get started in the melon business? Neale repeated recently when queried. "Well four years ago my wife sent away for five cents worth of seed. We harvested 104 melons from that nickel investment. That was the start. Last year our melons weighed from eight to 31 pounds and we found a ready market.

"Quality? I guess the quality is there. We follow on the market when the people have had the best the country raises and our melons go big."

Neale is one man in the northwest who don't worry about rain, his watermelon crop requires less moisture than grain. In fact he worries occasionally that there is too much precipitation. Watermelons require very little rainfall.

LEGION POST ORGANIZED AT CANTON, CHINA

Post Was Formed Without Aid of National or Departmental Officials

Canton, China, July 19.—China's third American Legion Post has just been organized here, the others being at Shanghai and Peking. In spite of the difficulty that the American community of Canton is small and scattered, the post was formed without the aid of national or departmental Legion officials.

The 30 members include bankers, missionaries, tobacco salesmen, civil and mining and electrical engineers, automobile and oil men, and sailors from a U. S. gunboat. There are two Chinese members, one an instructor in the College of Agriculture, the other a government radio operator. Five-sixths of the Post have not previously been members of the American Legion.

The head of the Canton post is Commander Alfred H. Holt, formerly of Lake Forest, Wisconsin, and now a professor of the Canton Christian College.

MRS. JOHNSON SUCCEUMBS AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Funeral services were held yesterday for Mrs. Anna Johnson, wife of Emil Johnson, who died at their home in Tryon township, about 40 miles northwest of here, of cancer of the stomach after a long illness. Mrs. Johnson was 53 years old and had been in Sweden. The funeral, which was held in a grove by the side of the house, was attended by a large number of neighbors, the sermon being preached by Mrs. Pickley.

Mrs. Johnson was a sister of Mrs. Albert Janzer of Bismarck.

Because a physician was not present when Mrs. Johnson died, Coroner Strokle was asked to visit the house, he finding death due to natural causes.

In the royal household of England a candle once extinguished may never again be relighted within the precincts of the palace.

MONEY NEEDED TO HARVEST STATE'S CROP

It Is Estimated that from 20,000 to 30,000 Extra Men Will Find Work

SOME COUNTY ESTIMATES

Fargo, N. D., July 19.—Estimates of additional men needed in North Dakota's harvest range from 20,000 to 30,000. The lower estimate is by Mrs. M. B. Bove, in charge of the U. S. Employment office here. The other one made by H. E. Fuller, state secretary of the Farm Bureau Federation, is based on preliminary estimate of fifteen county agents of the needs of their particular counties.

Transients have begun to pour into the state and the influx is expected to continue as one of the largest harvest seasons the state has seen—barring rust—surges to its climax. They come largely through two main gateways—Fargo on the east and Oakes on the south—sturdy and brown, hardened by weeks and months of work on farms scattered all the way from Texas to the southern boundaries of this state.

Freight trains coming through Fargo usually carry from 15 to 30 of them, according to rail workers. Brakemen and conductors generally let them ride in peace, they say.

The first of the harvest activities, the rye harvest, is scattered over a considerable period of time this year and this will help the situation as far as danger of a very sudden and sharp need of men is concerned, according to Mr. Fuller. The preliminary county agents' estimates of men needed in the various counties, were made too early to be absolutely accurate, Mr. Fuller says, but form a basis for estimating the total need.

The county estimates follow: Pembina, 1,200; Dickey, 200; Hettinger, 400; Slope, 750; Mountrail, 400; Richland, 1,000; Ward, 650; Cass, 2,500; Ramsey, 1,000; Foster, 750; Pierce, 200; Stutsman, 500; Cavalier, 500; Sargent, 200; La Moure, 250. Total for the fifteen counties, 10,900.

But two of the counties making the following estimates of labor are from the Slope country where the indications are that one of the largest harvests in its history will take place, and the Northwest part of the state, where crop prospects are also excellent is not well represented in the above list of counties while the better conditions of the crop with each passing day of good weather is adding to the number of harvest hands to be needed.

BOARD AGREES TO RE-HEARING ON RAIL WAGES

the Florida East Coast railway at St. Augustine, Florida, was shot and slightly wounded by three masked men.

ASK LABOR'S SUPPORT

Washington, July 19.—An appeal was issued today by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor to all "workers everywhere to support the railroad workers in their efforts to secure a just settlement of the railroad shops, trades dispute."

The appeal, issued by unanimous vote of the executive council and over the signatures of all members of the council including Samuel Gompers, federation president, has been forwarded to every labor organization in the United States and to all organizers of the federation it was announced at federation headquarters.

Organized labor is asked specifically in the appeal to refrain from doing any work formerly done by men now on strike while the workers on strike are urged to conduct themselves in a law-abiding manner.

WORKMEN DRIVEN OUT

(By the Associated Press)
Boston, Mass., July 19.—Seven masked men, heavily armed, got past the guards at the Boston and Maine railroad shops at Concord, New Hampshire, last night, entering a dormitory where fifty shopmen were sleeping, drove them out of doors and ordered them out of town, according to a statement by Boston and Maine officials today. There was shooting and hand-to-hand fighting in which several workmen were beaten, one requiring hospital treatment.

Waycross, Ga., July 19.—With three companies of Georgia national guardmen here for patrol duty in connection with disorders growing out of the strike of local Atlantic Coast line shop workers, fears of further disturbances had diminished today. Mayor Dan Cowart said "the best ings and promiscuous shootings" had ceased after the troops arrived.

INJUNCTION GIVEN

(By the Associated Press)
Superior, Wis., July 19.—A temporary injunction restraining striking shopmen from picketing the Great Northern shops in Superior was granted by Judge C. Z. Luss in federal court here today.

At the same time Judge Luss instructed the United States marshal's office in Superior to swear in a sufficient number of deputies to enforce the order.

SALE OF BEER, WINES, FAVORED IN LABOR BODY

of the mine workers now on strike; purchase of union labeled bread; denunciation of those who have locked out printers in Minneapolis and St. Paul.

The resolution urging legislation of the sale of light wine and beers was adopted after a compromise had been effected and after J. C. Pratt of Crookston, a federation vice president, had spoken in opposition to it.

Vote Delayed.
The vote on the beer and light wines resolution was delayed yesterday afternoon by an unexpected fight over a resolution calling for a change in the constitution, which would provide for each district electing its own vice president to the state federation instead of the district caucusing for its candidate and then submitting the name before the entire body.

The resolution brought on a fight between the conservatives and the radicals and in the test vote the radicals pooled 119 to the conservatives' 78.

As a vote on a constitution change requires two-thirds majority, however, the radicals lost and the constitution remains unchanged.

The radicals claimed under the present system districts did not have the right to say who should represent them. The conservatives claimed vice presidents represented the entire body and the entire body should have the right to select them.

Urged Political Action.
Through a series of resolutions of fered by William H. Mahoney of St. Paul, and Thomas Van Lear of Minneapolis, president and secretary of the Minnesota Working People's Non-Union Nonpartisan League and adopted by the convention the state convention went on record as urging its membership to support political candidates endorsed by the league and to give moral and financial support to the league for its fall campaign.

Compact political action by labor was urged in the resolutions.

Secretarial Course Gives You Organized Experience

When a business man says that he wants an experienced stenographer or secretary, what he really means is that he wants an individual who has acquired knowledge and skill, plus the confidence that springs from a consciousness of the possession of that knowledge and skill. The ordinary type of office experience is bound to be partial, fragmentary, and more or less haphazard.

In the text which we use in our Secretarial Course—"Advanced Dictation and Secretarial Training" the essentials of office experience are presented in systematic and organized form. When you complete that course you will have performed tasks, acquired knowledge and skill, and secured familiarity with office routine and secretarial work to a far greater extent than would be possible to acquire in ninety-nine offices out of a hundred in a year. You will have obtained a fund of knowledge and skill which you can apply immediately and directly to the problems which will confront you in the office in which you will be employed.

Secretarial Training Is The Open Door To Big Things

If you are looking forward to becoming a stenographer, here is the opportunity right at your hand to secure a secretarial course which is as far in advance of the ordinary shorthand course as the Twentieth Century Limited is ahead of the stage coach.

Write for particulars. When you know what we have done for thousands of others, you will attend this Model Office Training School. Address:

Wears excellent clothes and has the manners of a gentleman. When last seen, wore black tortoise-shell rimmed glasses and evening clothes.

PAULINE GARON Is comparatively new to picture-goers, but was familiar in New York as "the sweetest flapper in captivity." Wears short dresses and bobbed hair. Has deep blue eyes and blond hair; is 19 years old and looks 16; weighs 100 pounds and is 5 feet 1 inch tall.

TOM WILSON—Once known as trainer for Jim Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons, the giant who was Richard Boyd's valet for many years, is also missing. He is about 6 feet tall and would never tell his age or weight. He wears rough clothes and is very, very dark. Is religious, but carries a big razor and a trained pair of dice. Will sing hymns if given the opportunity.

WELCOME STRANGER

There usually is one man in every town, no matter how cold the citizens may be, who will extend a friendly hand of greeting to the stranger. He is the hotel proprietor or the hotel clerk. The cheery greeting and courteous attention given the stranger in the hotels of our city and others in North Dakota are perhaps the product of a realization that courtesy pays, but the greeting so often carries with it genuine warmth that the greeter must himself find pleasure in extending the welcome.

The North Dakota Greeters of America, composed of hotel men, is launching a "Welcome Stranger" campaign in the state. The hotel men speak from experience, and their advice may well be heeded. In a letter to brother greeters J. O. Dahl, secretary of the organization says:

"Thousands of dollars are being spent to attract settlers to our fine state.

"All this time and money will have been wasted if we fail to impress the stranger within our gate of the true, whole souled hospitality of which we are capable. We want them to remain with us, build their homes and invest in our farming and business industries.

"For this reason, the N. D. Greeters have undertaken the 'Welcome Stranger' campaign.

"You have been chosen to represent our district chairman.

"Under separate cover we are sending you a small quantity of 'Welcome Stranger' cards, to be used in your own city—to be hung in your lobby, in the dining room, in the garage and other places where the stranger will see them.

"Also have your Commercial club or city government place 'Welcome Stranger' signs at the trail entrances to your city."

In this straightforward letter to members of the organization the Greeters have well summarized their intentions. It contains sound advice.

The Greeters will join in the campaign. It is to be hoped that every citizen of North Dakota will remember the greeting, "Welcome Stranger," and will use it frequently this summer.

And before the visitor leaves he should be made to feel that he no longer is a stranger.

WHAT YOU OVERLOOK

Discussing fake trance mediums B. J. Walton, magician known on the stage as Professor Eder, says in a letter to the Bismarck Tribune:

"As for the evidence of scientific men, would say that as a magician and medium I dread the eyes of the average small boy more than those of the average scientist, so far as the detection of deception is concerned. And I know, for I have worked before both audiences."

Children are keen observers because, to them, everything is fresh and new, hence interesting.

As we become older, we observe that life is a series of repetitions, generally dull, frequently stupid and boring. We lose interest, and with it, the inalienable valuable power of close observation.

You have noticed how easy it is to "put something over" under the very eyes of the aged.

After the average person reaches 40, his brain cells become "set," like concrete.

Vanity convinces the ego or inner self that it has become fairly familiar with life, that the routine of existence is comprehended to the last detail.

The individual loses interest, stops observing, becomes "set in his ways." It is difficult to drive a new idea through his head. Brain cells are closed and locked, instead of open and receptive.

That is the reason why middle-aged people are not as quick to see and grasp opportunities as the young fellows, despite their superior ability and "background" of experiences.

Ancient alchemists searched for the universal solvent—a fluid that would dissolve anything. The search lasted centuries, consumed an infinite amount of energy and time. It stopped when an observant young man said, "If you get it, what will you keep it in?"

When the power of close observation becomes feeble or nearly paralyzed goodbye to opportunities!

Without a keen and unlagging sense of observation, success is elusive or, if already achieved, slips from one's grasp.

Ever young to become interested in every detail of life. Develop, therefore, your powers of observation and analysis. Make flabby muscles, they can be trained into strength.

Observation is the key to success—also the handcuffs that prevent youth slipping away from you.

SPECIALISTS

Brill, leading American psychanalyst, "killed" one famous list of questions which he inventor Edison submits to applicants for jobs.

To answer all the Edison questions correctly, says Brill, would reveal only a general smattering of knowledge—superficial brain hush—instead of thoroughness in any one thing.

Maybe so, maybe not. A question revealing that an applicant has basic-phobia might be sufficient proof that his mind would seldom be on his work.

Brill is right about thoroughness. In this age when success comes only by specialization. That's the chief trouble with our government, for ever being turned over to new experimenters instead of specialists.

THE FOOL-KILLER

Have you ever come close to getting killed at a railroad crossing? The number of deaths from this cause has been cut in two since 1907. But the toll still is heavy and 76 out of 100 crossing deaths happen to auto drivers.

Contrary to general belief, reckless driving is not the cause of most crossing accidents.

F. M. Metcalf, safety expert of the Northern Pacific, has been checking up on his road. He finds that really reckless drivers are few. But thousands of motorists every day drive over the railroad tracks without taking the trouble to look either to the right or left.

This is an odd slant on auto accidents—that more people risk their lives by carelessness when driving slowly than when speeding.

The fact that we may be driving slowly is apt to lull most of us into a false sense of security.

The less apprehensive we are of danger, the more careless we become. Eternal vigilance is the price of safety.

Auto driving never can be made fool-proof like the machine enclosed in safety guards.

Eliminating railroad crossings, while desirable in cities and dangerous curves, can never be applied generally.

There are 251,939 highway crossings on the principal railroads alone. They are being eliminated at a rate of 400 a year. At that rate, says Metcalf, it would take 629 years to remove all the crossings, and at a cost of $12,000,000,000.

Personal and never lagging caution is the real curb for auto accidents—and all others.

TRAPS

Be careful about buying stock in new radio corporations. Some of them, glutting the market with "stuff" made to sell and not of much use, will cause investors to lose millions.

This warning comes from Alexander Eisenmann, president of National Radio Chamber of Commerce.

The radio investment craze starts out surprisingly like the big boom in worthless oil stocks. About 400 new corporations a month are being organized by promoters to manufacture radio apparatus. The ones that will survive as excellent investments can be counted on your fingers and toes.

The same principle can be applied to nearly every new industry. Swindlers keep up with the times.

FLAW

Chief Moses Caldwell leads his tribe of Ojibwa Indians on the warpath, in Canada, in a fight over land claimed by the red men.

It is a peaceful war, so far, no shooting reported. But it has all the atmosphere of a Cooper novel.

The situation widens romance and craving for adventure in the imagination of a city reader. The golden bubble bursts, however, when the Indians' march is held up by word that the chief's son, rushing from Mexico City to re-enforce his father, is killed in an auto accident.

It is enough to kill all belief that romance is not as extinct as the dodo.

HYPOCRITES

In Philadelphia, police hold a man, charged with being intoxicated when driving an auto that killed a woman.

The defendant makes sweeping denials—alcoholic breath due to medicine, instead of drunk by liquor, probably, etc.

Most readers, smart or chuckle when they learn that the defendant is a prohibition lecturer, a coincidence apt unfairly to condemn him without a hearing, in the popular mind.

You have heard of prohibitionists making speeches against Demon Rum when so drunk they could hardly stand up. Hypocrisy? No.

A drunkard is an expert on drunkdom. It is the knower's want he is talking about, something that cannot be said of the prohibitionist who never had "the snakes."

RARE DICTIONARY

Joseph Brown, Canadian war veteran, exhibits in Ottawa the smallest dictionary in the world. It is a half inch long, a third of an inch wide and a half inch thick. In this small book are 1,000 words, in such fine print that they can be read only with a magnifying glass.

This dictionary, carried through the war by Brown, creates endless talk among the big crowds that see it.

It is an exceptional work of skill. But, after all, it is a monument to useless endeavor, of which there is so much in life that possibly that is why the book attracts attention.

MONEY

Bank clearings in the United States during May totaled the stupendous sum of nearly $151,000,000,000.

This is 11 times as much as passed through the clearing houses in May, 1913.

How do you explain that? Higher prices—account for only a small fraction of the gain. Few of us are spending 11 times as much as before the war. Yet money moves 11 times as fast.

The doings of money are mysterious. No wonder, so few are able to understand its tricks, so few capture it in quantities.

EXCEPTION TO RULE

Mrs. Alice Turner, widow, was sitting in her kitchen at Farmington, New York, last night when a terrific storm, lightning struck the house. Damage was small. The widow was uninjured.

All her life she has believed with the rest of us that lightning never strikes twice in the same place.

But something went wrong with the rules. A second bolt of lightning knocked her unconscious.

This should put a crimp in popular notions about thunderbolts. At least half of the "knowledge" that is passed down to us and that we take for granted, without investigation, is false.

WEALTH

Von Glasenapp, vice president of the German Reichsbank, claims that Germany's national wealth is only a third of what it was before the war.

That may be true on the surface, but not basically.

As in all other countries, Germany's real national wealth is her manpower—productive labor. Labor, by the sweat of its brow, will pay the indemnity with the things it produces.

There are only four kinds of real wealth in the world—nature, labor, love and intellect.

A photograph sent by wireless from Rome, Italy, is received in New York and printed in a newspaper.

This is news—today. Later, when radio movies become common, it will be smiled at, as one of the "crude pioneer attempts."

After radio movies will come radio eyesight. People will look into a machine and see events in another part of the world, as they happen, without photographs for a go-between.

That will drive many nails in the coffin of secrecy, the root of most evil.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Poor little George Guinea-pig was unhappy. He was tired of being made fun of because he had no tail.

So one day he went to the house of Dr. Snuffles, the fairman doctor, and told him his troubles.

"Is there anything I can do?" he asked. "Is there any medicine I can take that will grow me a tail?"

"Nothing I know of," answered the kind little doctor. "Nancy Nick, did you ever hear of anything good for growing tails?"

The twins said they had never heard of anything.

So George padded off home again to the old box beside the hen-house. He felt so unhappy his tears dropped from his funny little black shoe-button eyes.

"Oh, me, oh, my!" he wailed. "I'd be the happiest person in the world if only I had a tail."

Now old Oscar Owl had heard the whole thing and he cooked up a plan.

"I see where I get two meals tonight instead of one," he hooted. "Little Plippy Fieldmouse just got done telling mamma he was tired of his long tail because it was always giving away his hiding-hole. I'll telephone to both of them."

So he called up the hen-house and asked Mrs. Lechhorn please to get George Guinea-Pig to the telephone. George came at once.

"This is a friend," croaked Oscar Owl. "I know where you can find a tail. Come to the edge of Whispering Forest under the old hickory tree at eight sharp."

"I'll be there!" squeaked George happily.

Then Oscar called up the Fieldmouse. Only he told Plip that he knew how he could lose his tail—which was more like the truth.

TODAY'S WORD

Today's word is HARANGUE.

It's pronounced harang, with the accent on the last syllable. The first a is as in a ask, and the second a is short.

It means—when used as a noun, popular oration, a speech addressed to a large public assembly, a noisy, ranting speech; when used as a verb, to address earnestly or noisily.

It comes from the French "harangue" meaning, literally, a speech before a large multitude.

It's used like this as a noun: "He delivered an impassioned harangue" as a verb: "He harangued the crowd."

A THOUGHT

He that oppresseth the poor reproacheth his Maker; but he that honoreth Him hath mercy on the poor.—Proverbs 13:31.

But before I seriously undertake to make of the poor man an independent, intelligent, struggling brother, to wake him from his torpor, to set him on his feet, to kindle in his soul that fire that feeds his soul full of light and warmth, I must have something more than the impulse of a wise economy.—Phillips Brooks.

Boiling—And on Cake of Ice!

Steam shooting out of the spout. The lid bouncing up and down. And the kettle's on a cake of ice. Fred Andrews, of Providence, R. ERSKINE DALE PIONEER

by JOHN FOX Jr

"I know more of your career than you think, Grey. You have been a spy as well as a traitor. And now you are crowning your infamy by weaning some spell over my cousin. I can hardly hope that you appreciate the honor I am doing you."

The black boy ran down the steps and presently Ephraim was in the "give one to Mr. Grey, Ephraim, and the other to me."

"Ephraim," warned Erskine, "take this pistol. You may need it, to protect yourself."

"Indeed, yes," returned Grey, "and kindly instruct him not to use it to protect you." For answer Erskine sprang from the shadow—discarding formal courtesies.

"En garde!" he called sternly. The two shining blades clashed lightly and quivered against each other in the moonlight.

Grey was cautious at first, trying out his opponent's increase in "kill."

"You have made marked improvement."

"Thank you," smiled Erskine. "Your wrist is much stronger."

"Naturally," Grey leaped backward and parried just in time. A vicious thrust that was like a dart of lightning.

"Ah! A Frenchman taught you that."</

WHITE GAINS IN POPULARITY AS THE SEASON ADVANCES

Despite the early vogue of bright colors and of patterned materials it begins to look as though the summer season itself were to be one of white.

White silks and crepes, white rations, homespun, swiss, organdie—white in every conceivable material is being shown and worn.

Sometimes white is used as a background for colored trimmings as in the slip-on blouse sketched. This is smocked in vari-colored yarns. It is worn with one of the well-liked pleated skirts.

Slip-on dresses made with an elastic gathered waist are very popular and are shown in many styles.

Many women prefer them to skirts or knickers and blouses for sports wear and the elastic waistline permits one to swing one's arms with all the fervor at one's command.

AT THE MOVIES

CAPITOL. "Queen of the Turf" is a romance of the race course. It is peopled by a fascinating group of characters whose experiences have been woven into a turf drama that recalls the memorable "checkers," that grand old story of the turf that thrilled the whole world more than a decade ago. It is the current attraction at the Capitol theater tonight.

The outstanding scene, among several of undoubted dramatic value, is the race episode in which two sleek thoroughbreds outdistance a field of sprinters and finish in an absolute dead heat. The frenzy of the spectators who jam the towering grandstands, the milling throngs in the betting ring where thousands of dollars change hands, the paddock where the horses are given their last minute preparation for the big event and many other scenes gives a note of realism to the production that will thrill even the most calloused of race goers.

THE ELTINGE

Cullen Landis comes to the Eltinge Thursday in "The Man with Two Mothers," a story appeal, humor and action. He last was seen in "Watch Your Step." Mary Alden, is the Irish mother and Sylvia Brennan, the girl. It is the story of a young Irishman who comes to this country as an adopted son, bringing his own mother with him. They thought they sent the old mother back to Ireland but Dennis fooled them. Bobby Vernon in a Christie comedy, "Exhibit Quietly" is also on the Eltinge program for Thursday.

Here's Recipe for Best Bread in Arkansas

The champion bread baker of Arkansas is Agnes McKibbin, 18 and unmarried, Murfreesboro. In a state-wide contest in which 75 counties entered 14 contestants, she made the loaf that won the unanimous choice.

This is the recipe she used:
1 tablespoon sugar,
1 tablespoon shortening
1 1/2 teaspoons salt,
1 cup boiling water,
1 cup scalding milk,
1 yeast cake
6 cups flour

Put sugar, shortening and salt in bowl and pour over them the hot liquid. Mix yeast cake in one-quarter cup of lukewarm water and stir in the yeast.

Add sifted flour and stir until smooth. Turn dough on a floured board and knead until elastic. Return to bowl, cover, and let stand for two and one-half hours in a warm place.

Turn out and knead again. Shape loaf and place in greased pan. After about one hour, or when dough is double its bulk, bake in a hot oven for 50 to 60 minutes.

Poisoned: What to Do

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP

Every day or so the newspapers tell of a case of accidental poisoning in which the victim took the wrong medicine by mistake. A little care and common sense could have prevented such an accident.

All medicines which are poisonous when taken internally are so labeled by the dispensing druggist or physician. If such medicine is transferred to another bottle the label also should be transferred or a new one made out. It is well to put such poisons on the top shelf of the medicine cabinet, reserving this shelf for poisons only. Most poisons when bought have prickly stoppers on the bottles so they may be identified in the dark. Children should be cautioned against taking any medicines except when the parents are at hand.

The symptoms of poisoning vary with the special poison. Sudden, severe and unexpected sickness after eating, drinking or taking medicine may be due to poison.

Delay in cases of poisoning is usually disastrous. A doctor should be summoned immediately, but while awaiting his arrival first aid should be given. An emetic, a medicine to induce the victim to vomit, is the first thing to be done in most cases. Tickling the throat with finger or feather or drinking a large quantity of warm water will usually induce vomiting.

In the case of poisoning from corrosive poisons, an emetic is not the best treatment. Such corrosive poisons are sulphuric acid, hydrochloric acid, nitric acid, caustic soda, potash and lime. Treatment should be as follows: neutralize the poison by giving an alkali such as baking soda or soap, for acid poisoning; and strong fruit juices or vinegar containing acid for alkali poisoning. Give a large quantity of some vegetable or animal oil, such as olive oil or castor oil, to dilute and soothe the burned inner parts; finally give stimulants, such as strong tea or coffee or aromatic spirits of ammonia.

She Can Thrill With Hat as Well as With Book

ELINOR GLYN

You can always depend upon Elinor Glyn for something startling, if not in literature in millinery.

Here is the hat she wore at the fashionable Longchamps races, recently the social event of Paris. Put the photograph thus in your imagination: Hat black, piled high with aigrettes; hair red; eyes green; skin peaches and cream; wrap black satin.

W. C. MCLURE, FORMER DAKOTA OFFICIAL, DIES

Devils Lake, N. D., July 19.—William C. McClure, formerly superintendent of the state school for the Deaf in Devils Lake, died recently at his home in Fulton, Missouri, following an operation for appendicitis. Mr. McClure had also been ill with typhoid fever.

The news of his death, received in a letter by Raymond Waxler, secretary to the superintendent at the local school, is a shock to the city, where Mr. McClure had made many friends, due to his pleasing personality and his willingness to participate in all civic and social affairs. While in Devils Lake he was a member of the Rotary club.

Mr. McClure was only 32 years of age at time of his death, having been born at the Kentucky School for the Deaf at Danville, November 9, 1890. He was graduated from Central college, Danville, Kentucky, and from the normal department of Gallaudet college, Washington, D. C. He also took up postgraduate work at Northwestern university. During the World War he served as an ensign in the navy.

PETITIONS FOR INCREASE.

Duluth, July 19.—The Northwestern Telephone company announced here today it had petitioned the state railroad and warehouse commission for an increase in rates on its service in Duluth. Toll rates are not included in the application, it applying only to business and residential service. The increase asked for except in one instance—that of the two-party line—is $1 month.

HANDKERCHIEFS

Batik handkerchiefs are most interesting to look at, even though they seem a trifle fantastic for ordinary use. Their lavish use of yellow, purple and red is at least different from the little hemstitched square that was once considered the only thing permitted by good taste.

FELT HAT

The soft felt hat with the rolling brim, simply bound in ribbon in self-tone or in a contrasting shade, is very practical for general sports wear and is seen everywhere.

SHOE TREES

A new type of shoe trees has a simple device so that the pair may be hooked on a bar or nail. This system keeps them off the closet floor and makes them decidedly accessible.

GIANTS AGAIN DEFEATED BY THE CARDINALS

Former Leads National League by Scant Margin of Half a Game

SEVERAL HOME RUNS

Yankees Tounce White Sox; Cleveland Defeats Athletics Detroit Is a Loser

(By the Associated Press)

Chicago, July 19.—Holding the lead in the National League by the scant margin of a half game, the Giants moved on to Cincinnati today after a disastrous series in St. Louis in which they dropped three out of four games to the fast-going Cardinals.

Rickey's men took the final game, 9 to 5, a see-saw slugging match in which the lead changed five times. Eddie Amsmith cracked out his tenth homer of the season during the battle.

After dropping three in a row to Chicago, the Yankees pounded three White Sox batters for 20 hits and a 14 to 4 victory in the final game. Harry Hooper hit his third homer in as many days and Mussel and Witt registered four hits apiece, the former driving in seven runs.

Home runs by Spakey and Wood, coupled with Morton's effective pitching, gave Cleveland a six to three victory over the Athletics and its ninth straight triumph, the longest winning streak in the American League this season. The Red Sox defeated Detroit, 6 to 5, for the first time this season on their own grounds.

Three of the five hits gathered off Rickey were homers—two by Nicholson and one by Boeckel—but the Red-hits Oeschger for 14 safe blows and won from Boston, nine to three.

LEONARD-TENDLER TITLE MATCH A QUESTION OF RIGHTS AND LEFTS

LEW TENDLER

BENNY LEONARD

No Love Lost Between Lightweight Champion and Challenger

By BOB DORMAN

When Benny Leonard steps into the ring in Jersey City the night of July 27 against Lew Tandler but one question is to be answered:

Can Leonard drop Tandler with rights to the head before Tandler downs the champion with lefts to the stomach?

Tandler is the only lightweight in the ring today who stands a chance to dispose the champion via the kayo route.

He cannot be compared to Leonard as a boxer, but his awkward southpaw style of milling is hard to solve and his wicked drives to the pit of the stomach have downed many a husky opponent.

Have Never Met

In ring tactics he has had almost as much experience as Leonard, though four years younger.

Starting at about the same time, both have come up from obscurity, Leonard achieving to the title.

Because of various circumstances, they have never met and, as a result of charges and counter-charges passed back and forth by both fighters and their managers, the present mill promises to be as vicious as the fight between Willie Williams and Al Volpert.

Leonard's worst fault is his aversion to the grind of training, often necessitating fighting himself into form after the beginning of a bout. "Battle of Century"

But Benny's two recent battles with Jack Britton and Rocky Kanakas has brought him to the top of his form, shown by his massacre of the tough Italian, and he should put up a battle worthy of his title.

Tandler's record of the last two years has been impressive. He has fought all comers and, one by one, has eliminated all the young hopefuls from Benny's front doorstep.

Granting that both can make the weight—which is 135 pounds at 3 o'clock—without losing strength or speed, it should be what the Dempsey-Carpenter fight was not—"the battle of the century."

Chicago.—Police found a ten year old girl hidden in a closet in a house she is said to have attempted to burglarize.

Peoria, Ill.—A fourteen year old boy was electrocuted when he attempted to climb a tower over a railroad bridge.

Kansas City.—A cut of two cents a gallon in the price of gasoline was announced by the Kansas City Refining Company. The cut was effective in Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. The Standard Oil Company announced a similar cut effective in eleven states.

Peking.—Minister of finance Tung Kang closed the doors of the department of finance, with the statement that they would remain closed until funds could be found for the treasury.

Farina, Ill.—Mrs. S. P. Lott, aged 70, is cutting her third set of teeth.

Tigers last year there was a constant inability to make double plays.

Slow handling of a ground ball, a bad toss to second, or a poor throw to first would invariably cause the loss of the second man in an attempted double play.

Slow on Double Plays During each season I see scores of games lost after chances have been offered to retire the side. That was the big fault of the Detroit club last year, inability to make double plays.

The fielding records show that in this department of the game the Tigers were a bad last with only 107 double plays to their credit.

While there have been a number of contributing causes to the showing the Detroit club has made so far this year none stand out more than the play of Rigney and Cuthshaw at short and second.

The recruit Rigney at short has just about rounded out the Tigers' infield. The presence of the veteran George Cuthshaw at second has supplied the much needed steadiness.

Made the Team In the spring of the year when Rigney was having his troubles, Manager Cobb never lost faith. One day in Cleveland after a couple of boots by the youngster had helped lose the game, Cobb remarked to me:

"Rigney is a great ball player. He can go to his right or left equally well. He has a good arm and plenty of nerve. Just wait until he gets his bearings. In a couple of months they will be talking about him around the American League circuit."

Recently, after the Tigers had won eight straight games, knocking New York for four in a row, I heard the astute Connie Mack say: "That youngster Rigney has done wonders for Detroit. He is a looking ball player and is bound to get better. I like his style, very much. He has made the team."

So in looking around for one of the reasons why the Tigers are doing so well don't overlook Shortstop Rigney. He has more than made good.

Democratic State Ticket

Senator—Helstrom 86; O'Connor 142.

"It is a matter of common knowledge that this year will see a revival of (gasoline) consumption which will tax the physical reserves of the oil industry to the utmost," says Petroleum Age in its issue of April 15, 1922.

Present conditions indicate that the prediction of April 15 will be fulfilled. The estimated increase of automobile registrations in the states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) for 1922 will approximate 500,000 making a total probable registration of 3,850,000 cars.

Reports show that during the spring of 1922 large stocks of gasoline were accumulated, due to two principal factors, both transitory; first, the sensational production of the Mexia and Haynesville fields, a production which, however, has already fallen below half its peak and is diminishing rapidly; and second, the heavy and prolonged rains which made touring almost impossible.

These reserves of gasoline have served to keep the market steady. Nevertheless, the vast increase in the number of automotive vehicles and the extraordinary average mileage per car are depleting the reserve stocks rapidly.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), following its established practice of anticipating the needs of the people in the territory it serves, has increased its facilities to an extent which enables it to guarantee that it will be in position to supply its patrons wherever they may be located.

The entire organization, realizing that it is dealing in a commodity essential to the happiness and well-being of all the people

MEX. PETROLEUM ON RAMPAGE AGAIN TODAY

WHEAT PRICES FIRM TODAY IN MINNEAPOLIS

Made an Extreme Gain of Eight Points—Closing Was Irregular

New York, July 19 (Wall Street)—Trading in stocks at higher prices expanded today but gains were materially reduced or cancelled in the profit taking of the final hour. Sales approximated 750,000 shares.

Mexican petroleum made an extreme gain of eight points until selling of oils, equipments and motors caused a general reaction of 1 to almost 4 points. The closing was irregular.

At 10:30—Further covering of short contracts imparted a firm to strong tone to the stock market at the opening of today's trading but yesterday's spectacular movements in steel and affiliated shares were lacking. Gains averaging a point each were made on American locomotive, general asphalt, industrial alcohol, United Fruit and Coca-Cola. Changes in the railway list were narrow but mainly higher, indicating a stronger belief in an early settlement of the strike situation. Conifers remained steady on nominal dealings. Early quotations for the principal foreign exchanges showed moderately from yesterday's buoyant advances.

At Noon—Despite firmer money tendencies, more general cuts in crude oil prices and a slowing down of general industries because of fuel shortage, the market became more active at higher levels during the morning. Buying of steel and equipments centered in Crucible, Gulf States, Lackawanna, Midvale, American Can, New York Air Brake and railway steel spring. A gain of 1 1/4 points Mexican rose steadily with Corden oil, but some of the low grade domestic oils lagged. The broader demand for the rails embraced Baltimore and Ohio, Erie, Illinois Central, Louisville, Rock Island, Northern Pacific and St. Paul. Coppers and utilities improved and Sears Roebuck led the specialties at a 2 point rise. Call money opened at 4 per cent.

At 1:30—Shorts in Mexican petroleum were driven to cover at midday when that stock showed a gain of 5 points. The prominent coppers and shippers also made noteworthy advances. Pittsburgh coal, American Woolen, hide and leather preferred and sugar shares.

Durum Wheat Unsettled with Offerings Very Light. Demand Dull

(By the Associated Press)
Minneapolis, Minn., July 19.—Cash wheat receipts were heavier than expected today but there was no lack of demand and prices were firm to a cent better compared with futures. Most of the good wheat was picked up within an hour of the opening. Some fancy No. 1 dark sold early at 47c over futures. Durum wheat was unsettled with offerings very light and demands rather dull. Winter wheat still was fair to good, according to quality.

Corn offerings were limited and in fair to active demand according to color and quality. Oats demand was about the same with receipts moderate. Prices were quoted steady compared with futures. Rye receipts were increasing but so far the bulk of the increased movement has been absorbed by arrivals.

Barley was drab and easy in tone. Offerings were light and demand very limited. Rye offerings were limited and demand keen. PROHIBITION CAMPAIGN NOW ON IN SWEDEN

"Dry" Norway, With Away Less Population, Has More Drunks Than Sweden

VOTE ON IT AUGUST 27

Stockholm, July 19.—Sweden's prohibition campaign, now at its height, has become largely a battle of statistics. While the "dry" forces point with pride to the fact that they won a victory of the Riksdag when that body voted to hold a consultative plebiscite on the "wet" and "dry" issue on August 27 of this year, the anti-prohibitionists are quoting government statistics and the reports of medical authorities.

The reports of the government district physicians scattered all over the country are now being received by the Swedish Medical Board which recently went on record against total prohibition. Virtually all of the physicians report that drunkenness appears to be decreasing in their respective districts, and that in many parts of the country home-brewing is declining.

The Royal Social Board's latest report shows that during the first quarter of this year inebriety showed a further decline, there being only 5285 cases of drunkenness reported throughout Sweden. The report sets forth also that during 1921 Norway and Finland, both prohibition countries were more wet in spots than Sweden with her liquor rationing system. Thus during 1921 Sweden's quarterly reports showed between 7,000 and 8,000 cases of drunkenness while prohibition Norway, with about half of Sweden's population, had an average of nearly 9,000 cases of inebriety offenses during each quarter.

Says Deputies Not Needed

Minnesota U. S. Marshal Studies N. W. Conditions

(By the Associated Press)

Duluth, Minn., July 19.—Appointment of special deputies to insure the transportation of mails and interstate commerce during the present railroad strike has been found unnecessary, according to word received today from Edward Rustad, United States marshal for Minnesota with headquarters at St. Paul.

Following receipt of a telegram last Wednesday from United States Attorney General Daugherty to the effect that the transportation of mails must continue without interruption by the strike, Marshal Rustad had left immediately for St. Paul to investigate strike conditions in the Twin Cities. He announced his intention to appoint as many deputies as necessary to watch all mail trains leaving Minnesota railroad centers.

Up to the present time the railroad strike has not affected passenger service nor the movement of mails and commerce, either in the Twin Cities or Duluth and special deputies are not necessary at this time, according to Marshal Rustad. However, should conditions change, the additional officers can be appointed on a minute's notice and assigned duty without any delay, local deputies of the marshal's office said this morning.

WOMEN WIN FAIR PRIZES

Fargo, N. D., July 19.—Honors for housewifely ability, as awarded at the state fair here seem to be pretty well divided between maids and matrons of North Dakota and Minnesota. WORK IS BEST BEAUTIFIER, SHE SAYS, AFTER 60 YEARS ON STAGE

ADA BOCHETTE

BY MARIAN HALE

Sixty years a stage dancer—that's Ada Bochette's record.

And now, at a trifle more than 70, she has a glowing skin, excellent figure and enthusiasm and "pep" any flapper might envy.

"I never realize I am old until I look in the glass," she says. "I can dance any of the modern dances, I can outwalk any of my friends, and I can do fancy steps modern chorus girls do."

"When a child I was trained by a French ballet dancer. Every day I went through my bar exercises. I believe my dancing and constant exercise have done more than anything else to keep me happy and young."

"Were I asked to name the greatest beautifier for women I would say hard work. But this must be congenial work."

"I have been on the stage since I was 10. I love it as much today as I did 60 years ago. I have played

'TWO CAPITALS' ROAD PLANNED

Contract for Bridge Further Linking Bismarck, Pierre

Pierre and Bismarck—capitals of the two Dakotas—once linked closely by steamers plying up and down the Missouri—may again be joined, by this time by a well improved highway over which automobiles would travel and on which the new auto stage would replace the famous stages of early days.

Contract for a steel bridge across the Grand river near Little Eagle on the McLaughlin to Timber Lake section of the capital to capital highway, was let by the Corson county commissioners to the Western Bridge and Construction company of Omaha. The contract price was $11,749 for the two 90-foot spans and concrete abutments.

The new bridge is one of the two necessary to make possible the Pierre to capital highway from Pierre to Bismarck.

WEATHER GOOD FOR ALL CROPS

The weather bureau's crop summary for the week ending July 15 follows:

Favorable weather prevailed generally. Scattered showers fell on Wednesday and Thursday and the temperature was high on Friday but balance of week was cool and dry and rye and barley harvesting progressed rapidly. Severe hail storms Friday night did considerable damage to crops; much lodging by high wind was also reported. Corn is somewhat backward east portion, but excellent elsewhere. Some reports of black rust on spring wheat, but crop generally excellent. Abundant hay crop assured.

"La Marseillaise," the French national air, was composed in Strassburg.

The sycamore makes a good shade tree for the city because smoke is not detrimental to it.

At the equator the average temperature of the sea at the depth of a mile is but four degrees above the freezing point.

GRANT, MERCER CROPS GOOD

Additional Reports in Survey Bear Up Preceding Ones

Additional reports in The Tribune's canvass of counties for accurate information of crop conditions came from Grant county and Mercer county. They follow:

Grant county—A. H. Botten, Carson, says: No rust is in evidence. Harvesting of rye has started; wheat harvest will be in about two weeks. There is some moisture needed to carry late grain to maturity. A yield of wheat of 15 to 20 bushels per acre is expected. The corn crop is late, but will produce good feed. Prospects are good generally for oats, barley and potatoes.

Mercer county—R. M. Harmsen, Hazen, says: There is no rust. The wheat harvest will be somewhat later than in 1921. There has been sufficient moisture to carry the grain through the growing season. A yield of 15 to 20 bushels an acre of wheat is expected compared to 12 bushels average last year. Rye harvest has commenced, the average yield being estimated at eight bushels. Corn is a little late but prospects are good. There is a decrease in flax acreage. Labor conditions are normal.

TWO ARRESTED NEAR BORDER

(By the Associated Press)

Minot, N. D., July 19.—H. P. Reynolds and John Roe, giving their homes at St. Paul, are held in the county jail here today, following their arrest last night about five miles into the Canadian border, in Renville county, by federal prohibition agents, charged with transporting liquor. About 25 cases of whiskey were seized in the Buick roadster which the men were driving.

A charge of transporting intoxicating liquors will be preferred against the two, federal officers said today.

The cargo of seized liquor consisted mostly of the Green River brand, the officers say, and is valued at several thousand dollars.

THE Laun-Dry-Ette has no wringer. It not only washes the clothes, but dries them too.

With a wringer you have to put your hands in the water and wring out the pieces one or two at a time. With the Laun-Dry-Ette you do an entire washing without once touching the water. The Laun-Dry-Ette does all the drying for you. It whirls the clothes dry in one minute—a whole tubful at a time.
